BUILDER OF THE YEAR

Anthony Denorfia

Combine sharp business skills, a talented legal mind and a passion for building and you have Anthony "Tony" Denorfia. Having a diverse and broad background has been the foundation of the success of our 2012 Builder of the Year.

While building a successful legal career, Tony felt that his passion was in being able to create something that will have a lasting effect on people's lives in a positive way. His legal skills solved problems for people, but building homes for families was the positive impact he was looking for.

Tony has an insatiable appetite for information and education. He takes every opportunity to stay up on the latest trends, technology and resources that are available. Whether he is taking a class, reading up on the latest technologies or networking with other HBRA members; Tony is always thirsting for more information.

With rapidly changing technology and systems in home building, Tony balances the latest cutting edge technology with customer comfort, value and budgets to build a home that will last a lifetime for his customers. Another key component of Tony's success is his focus on quality. He feels that taking the time and attention at the beginning pays off at the end. He has hundreds of satisfied customers and has built a reputation for building a quality home through his implementation of quality control throughout the process.

The success that Tony has achieved has not been lost on him or his family. He is very appreciative of the opportunities that he has had throughout his career and feels it is very important to give back to the industry, his community and those that are less fortunate. He has served his town of Southington in a number of capacities and through many organizations. He was chairman of the Parks and Recreation Department, director of the Southington Chamber of Commerce, a member of the Democratic Town Committee, director of the Little League, manager and coach of Little League teams, a member of Southington Unico Club, a director of the Home Builders & Remodelers Association of Greater Hartford and a member of the HBRA of Connecticut's Government Affairs Committee.

Tony and his wife, Debbie, live in Southington. They have three grown sons, Andy and Matt both work in the family business, and Chris plays baseball for the San Diego Padres.
